

Towards a Political Economy of Statistics

Klaus Heine

Erasmus University of Rotterdam, the Netherlands – heine@law.eur.nl

Erich Oltmanns*

Federal Statistical Office, Germany – erich.oltmanns@destatis.de

Abstract

Discussions are being held in many countries on the future of official statistical data production. As a contribution to this discussion, this article examines some aspects of a “political economy of statistics”, focussing on “statistical operationalization”, which is seen here as a central challenge for data production in the field of economic and social activities.