The Millennium Development Goals is gaining Special significance as they are developmental objectives where the majority of their indicators put in quantitative form in order to follow-up developmental processes in different countries. Since the adoption of the Millennium Declaration in 2000, Egypt was keen on achieving these Goals, which confirms that Egypt supports global vision for a better future for all. Now, it is time to accelerate thinking on a global development agenda beyond 2015. The United Nations has developed a new plan on the development agenda beyond 2015, and Egypt is a member of the open UN Working Group for the sustainable development goals. Egypt has been selected as one of the 50 countries worldwide, and one of six Arab countries to implement country level consultations in order to provide clear recommendations to governments, civil society and other stakeholders on national development priorities.

Egypt is also involved in the Task Force consultations for development agenda 2063 of the African Union. It is a global strategy to optimize use of Africa's resources for the benefits of all African.

So, the paper will talk about Progress towards the Millennium Development Goals in Egypt, Post-2015 Development Agenda, and agenda 2063.

Keywords: MDGs – Sustainable development – Inclusive growth – Task force - development agenda.
